

RUE SHOPS: ATLANTA

with Chassie Post

PHOTOGRAPHY: I LOVE YOU MUCH!
COPY: LINDSAY GOLDNER

Chassie Post isn't your average fashionista. As Glit Groupe's Lifestyle Editor, she makes regular appearances as an editorial expert on national television shows—sharing not only her expert fashion sense, but also serving as a go-to gal for topics ranging from beauty, to entertaining, to design on programs like The Early Show and Good Morning America. To satisfy her well-rounded style palette, Chassie ventures from her Manhattan home to travel to Atlanta, where she takes Rue on a guided tour of her favorite haunts.

#1

CAROLYN CARR'S STUDIO

Chassie's "favorite artist ever," Carolyn Carr's studio is housed in an old building downtown. Her most recent photography is currently on display at another Atlanta must-see, Jackson Fine Art, 3115 East Shadowlawn Avenue.

22 | rue

Chassie claims she could live in Pieces, thanks to the genius of founder Lee Kleinhalter for reinventing vintage items. "Each find is impossibly stylish and unique."

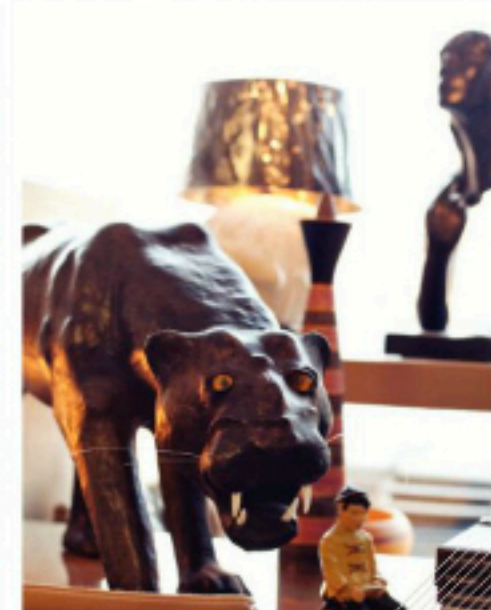

#2

PIECES

3234-A Roswell Road, NW

24-25/180

rue 25

#3

ANTIQUES & BEYOND

1853 Cheshire Bridge Rd. NE

"I make it a mandatory stop every time I'm in Atlanta," Chassie says of Antiques & Beyond. Treasure hunts here result in anything from alabaster obelisks to early 80's jewelry.

BELVEDERE

721 Miami Circle
NE, Suite 105

"I honestly crave everything in [owner Julia Carr Bayler's] uber-chic space," says Chassie about Belvedere's mid-century inventory.

4

